

JUNIOR LEAGUE OF RHODE ISLAND

Amy Gerhard, Treasurer

Amy joined the Junior League in 2004 in Augusta, Georgia before transferring into the Rhode Island League in November 2006. She was active on the cookbook committee, served as Finance Council Director from 2011 to 2013, and then transitioned into a Sustainer role in June, 2013.

Amy is originally from the suburbs of New Jersey, but has lived in Fort Wayne, IN and Aiken, SC prior to moving to Providence in 2006. She has a BA from Randolph Macon Woman's College and an MSM from Indiana Wesleyan. Amy also studied historic preservation through the Preservation Institute: Nantucket.

Amy brings twenty years of non-profit management to her current position of Communications & Marketing Coordinator at Pare Corporation, a multidisciplinary engineering firm in Lincoln, RI. As a member of Society for Marketing Professional Services (SMPS) she values the professional development opportunities to help her grow in this position.

When she is not working, Amy loves to spend time with her two PARL pets— a beagle named “Charley” and a Flemish-mix rabbit named “Gus.” She is the treasurer for her condo association board and is the vice chair for the West Broadway Neighborhood Action & Crime Watch Committee. She also enjoys reading in her spare time, and is an active member of the History Hijinks Book Club at the Providence Public Library.
